- d) Significant conversion of forests to plantation or non-forest use;
- e) Introduction of genetically modified organism in forestry operation;
- f) Violation of the ILO Core Conventions as defined in the ILO Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work.

In addition, the signing organization recognizes that the principles established by the International Labor Organization (ILO) through the 1998. Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Right at Work (the “Principles”) serve to guide governments in the protection of the basic rights of works defining a uniform path for every nation to follow. Based upon these Principles, and consistent with applicable national law, rights, regulation, and administrative/judicial rules and procedure, the signing organization shall respect:

- a) Freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining;
- b) The elimination of all forms of forced or compulsory labor.

- c) The effective abolition of child labor; and
- d) The elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation.
